ABOUT NUCLEUS

Nucleus is the core of everything, be it ours or the universe. It is the most important element that helps transform our eco system. In human beings, it contains genetic material that is responsible for controlling and directing trillions of cells that our body is made of.

Similar in nature if not the scale, is how complicated our homes can be, especially with our given busy schedules. Now imagine, would it not be ideal to have something that's at the core of your home. Something that helps transform your home the way you want. Something that lets your home be a reflection of your DNA. And something that's responsible for controlling everything that goes inside your home.

That's Honeywell Nucleus. Experience Smart Living.
